Editorial

This is the second issue of the IADIS International Journal on Computer Science and Information Systems (ISSN: 1646-3692).

The IADIS International Journal on Computer Science and Information Systems (IJCSIS) is devoted to fields of Computer Science and Information Systems. More specifically, the Journal focuses on all aspects of Applied Computer Science and Information Systems. The IADIS IJCSIS is a peer-reviewed scientific journal published in an electronic form. The mission of this journal is to publish original contributions in its domain in order to disseminate knowledge amongst its readers and to be a reference publication.

This second issue has extended versions of papers from the IADIS International Conference Applied Computing 2006, hosted in San Sebastian, Spain, 25-28 February 2006 and IADIS Virtual Multi Conference on Computer Science and Information Systems (MCCSIS 2006) that took place 15-19 May 2006. Both conferences were very successful and the eleven papers published in this issue of our journal, have been considered outstanding papers by the reviewers' comments and ratings, which lead them to be invited to be submitted in their extended versions.
